

A SPECIMEN Jell-O Dessert.

With the addition of fruits and nuts and whipped cream, or cream sauce, Jell-O can be made into a great variety of fancy dishes very easily and cheaply.

The least experienced of housewives will find no difficulty in preparing this simple dish:

FRUIT SALAD.

Dissolve one package Strawberry or Raspberry Jell-O in one pint boiling water. Slice two oranges or two bananas, or any fruit desired, and when the JELL-O is half set, stir fruit into same and set away to harden.

A hundred or more different dishes can be made from the seven Jell-O flavors.

All grocers sell Jell-O. 10 cents.

AUSTIN COLLEGE.

The Sixtieth Annual Commencement of Austin College will take place May 30-June 2. Sunday, May 30, at the First Presbyterian church at 11 a. m., Rev. Henry E. Dosker, D. D., L. L. D., Professors in the Kentucky Theological Seminary, of Louisville, Ky., will preach the Baccalaureate Sermon. In the evening at 8 o'clock, at the First Presbyterian church, Rev. Robt. E. Vinson, D. D., President of the Austin Theological Seminary, of Austin, Texas, will deliver the address to the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening in the college auditorium, there will be the annual Declamatory Contest between the two literary societies. Tuesday morning, the Alumni Association will meet in annual session. Quite a number of graduates and former students are signifying their intention of being present on this occasion. The specific work which has been taken up by the Alumni Association is the enlarging of the main building and fitting up a first-class auditorium on the second floor. In the afternoon the Board of Trustees will converse in their regular semi-annual session. Tuesday evening in the dining room of Luckett Hall, the Alumni Banquet will be held. On this occasion Col. A. T. McKinney, of Huntsville, Texas, a former student of the institution in the "fifties" will deliver the principal address. Wednesday morning the graduating exercises will be held in the college auditorium. Fifteen young men are to receive diplomas this year.

This has been an unusually successful year in the history of the college. The enrollment has increased to 202 and bids fair to be even larger next year. This is the first year that the Preparatory School has been wholly separated from the college, and this move has proven highly successful. The college is also handling their own boarding department in an excellent manner. Work has been resumed on the Y. M. C. A. Building and sufficient funds have been pledged to practically complete it by the opening of the fall session. W. T. Read.

KING COLLEGE.

We have only encouraging reports of King College, Bristol, Tenn. An enrollment of seventy-seven, when last year the college was closed; an increase of endowment by $20,000, all given since January by the Presbyterians of Bristol; a new dining hall (including reading room, kitchen and pantries, and dormitories) whose plans are now in the hands of the architects; a president who has won the full confidence of the town, and of the two Presbyteries in control; an enthusiastic patronage, an encouraged church, a contented student body, all going to make a successful session.

A college that has put sixty per cent of its graduates into the ministry, and nearly fifty per cent of the graduates into the Presbyterian ministry, is worth conservation and support. The Presbyteries of Holston and Abingdon in their recent meetings both expressed their intention to add to the endowment so generously begun by the citizens of Bristol.

The commencement exercises for this session will take place as follows: June 3, Oratorical Contest; June 4, Declamation Contest and Alumni Address by the Hon. S. R. Sells, of Johnson City, Tenn.; June 6, Commencement Sermon by Rev. S. C. Hall, of Tazewell, Va. A. D. W.
